

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LIST OF MANUSCRIPTS

LATIN MANUSCRIPTS.

10. LEGAL INSTRUMENT OF DONATION FROM JOHANNES, the Primicerius, or Captain of a company of soldiers, to the Church of Ravenna.

Written on papyrus, 5 ft. 4 in. long by 11½ in. broad. Imperfect at beginning, and undated; but written probably about A.D. 580—600, at Ravenna.

The last portion contained the exact terms of donation, but as the instrument is referred to by the donor just before making his cross for signature, and by each of the witnesses, it is plain that it was meant to be the “irrevocabilem donationis meæ usufructuarie paginam sex unciarum principalium in integro totius substantiæ meæ”. The language is a very corrupt style of Latin; the handwriting cursive Roman.

One of the most curious features of this document (palæographically speaking) is the subscription by one of the witnesses, a Greek, Marinos Chrysokatalaktis, who has written his testimony in Latin but in Greek characters (excepting that he uses the Latin n for the Greek v occasionally, and the Latin u for the Greek B sometimes). It is a contribution to our knowledge of old Latin pronunciation, for we find that he writes oεικ (that is, week, not wyke) for the Latin huius, and that he writes φικετ for fecit, in which latter word the irregularity of his vowels does not invalidate the proof that the letter c was still pronounced k (not s, nor ch) at the end of the sixth century after Christ.

11. BENEDICTIO CEREI. Roll, on vellum, 5 ft. 11½ in. long by 8½ in. broad. Sæc. IX.

The blessing of the Paschal candle, a rite beginning with “Exultet,” by which word this class of manuscript is frequently called. The illuminations represent the Passion and Resurrection, and the music in neumes accompany the text.

- 12. ST. CYPRIAN, Bishop of Carthage. Eistolæ et opuscula. Folio, on vellum, Sæc. VII.-VIII.

In rude Merovingian characters, often mixed with uncial letters. One of the oldest MSS., still in existence, of this Father of the Church.

- 13. HOMILIES on the Gospels appointed for the several Saints' days of the year. Small folio, on vellum. About 750-800.

Written in large rude Carlovingian characters, with a mixture of uncials and capitals. The homilies are by St. Fulgentius, Bede, etc. Belonged originally to the Abbey of Luxeuil.

- 14. EVANGELIA IV., Latiné, cuin Præfatione Beati Hieronymi. Small Fol., on vellum. About 850.

The illumination prefixed to St. Mark's Gospel is a fine specimen of the Carlovingian art. The writing includes a great variety of characters, uncial, rustic, capital, etc. The numerical figures are according to the Roman system. Initials in gold.

- 15. EVANGELIA IV., Latiné, cum Canone S. Eusebii. 4to, on vellum. Sæc. IX.

With illuminations representing the four Evangelists and their symbols, and headings in letters of gold. A note states that the codex was used by St. Anscharius (ob. 865), and was afterwards preserved as a relic in the church at Bremen.

- 16. S. COLUMBANUS. Vita scripta ab ejusdem discipulo (Jona Hiberno). 4to, on vellum. Sæc. IX.

Written and illuminated for the Emperor Otto the Great, whose portrait is painted on small medallions with inscriptions round them. The illuminations prefixed to each of the Gospels and the borders of the Canon of Eusebius have been surmised to be by an Italian hand and executed at St. Gallen.

It was probably written by the same person who executed the manuscripts given by St. Louis to the Sainte Chapelle. The tradition handed down by the family was that the large full-page illuminations were executed by Raphael, about the year 1517, when the owner was made a cardinal, and there is no doubt that, if not actually by his hand, the work was done by his followers under his supervision.

EXAMPLES OF BOOK-BINDING IN METAL AND IVORY.*CASE 1.*240. MANUSCRIPT BOOK OF THE EPISTLES.

In the centre of the cover, which is intended to be used as a pax at Mass, is an ivory panel carved in relief with the Crucifixion and figures of the Virgin Mary and St. John the Evangelist. The border is of silver-gilt, decorated with filigree work and four medallions repoussé, with figures of Saints; it is further enriched with large crystals, en cabochon, and a number of ancient Roman gems and pastes, both in intaglio and cameo. One, cut on red jasper, represents Hermes wearing a chlamys and holding the caduceus, copied from an antique Greek statue resembling the Farnese Hermes in the British Museum: fine Graeco-Roman work of the 1st century, A.D. The ivory carving, German, 10th or 11th century; the border, 13th century.

241. COVERS OF A TEXTUS OR BOOK OF THE GOSPELS.

In the centre of each is an ivory plaque, carved with three subjects in high relief: the Annunciation to the Virgin, the Nativity and Baptism of Christ, the Marys at the Sepulchre, the Ascension of Christ and the Descent of the Holy Ghost. The plaques are mounted in silver-gilt frames, divided into a number of panels, with repoussé figures of Our Lord, and Saints in high relief, that at the bottom of one being Saint Eucharius, Archbishop of Trèves, where the metal work of this cover was probably made. The intermediate panels are decorated with filigree work, and with jewels and pastes cut en cabochon. The ivory carvings, German, 10th or 11th century; the frames, 12th century.

242. MANUSCRIPT OF THE OLD TESTAMENT.

- In the centre of the cover is an ivory panel carved with two subjects; the upper one represents an archbishop with attendant priests addressing a man seated on a throne; the lower subject represents a Saint about to heal a lame man in the presence of a dignitary seated on a throne. The border, of silver-gilt, is decorated with filigree work and figures in repoussé, and enriched with crystals en cabochon. The MS. by a German scribe; 11th century; the cover, 13th century.

243. TEXTUS OR BOOK OF THE GOSPELS.

The covers consist of two modern boards in gilt copper frames enriched with plaques of Limoges enamel with representations of Apostles, Virtues, and the symbols of the four Evangelists, and formerly decorated with silver bosses. On one side a metal figure of the Crucifixion was attached, which is now missing; on the other is a 17th century painting of Christ. The MS. German, early 12th century.

244. LATIN PSALTER.

The cover is one leaf of the cover of a Textus or Book of the Gospels. In the centre is a figure of the Crucified Christ wearing a jewelled crown, on a cross richly ornamented with coloured enamels; in each corner is an enamelled medallion. The border is enriched with plaques of enamel, filigree work, and jewels. French (Limoges); early 12th century.

245. MANUSCRIPT PRECES ET LECTIONES.

In the centre of the cover is a large shallow depression covered over with thin sheets of gilt copper. Hammered out into low relief are three standing figures—Christ bearing the Book, to the left the Virgin, to the right St. John. Each figure stands on a separate pedestal. Above and below are symbols of the four Evangelists struck on separate pieces of metal of circular shape. The bevel is covered with thin gilt plates. At each corner of the border is a large rock crystal in claw settings; champlevé enamels along the top and bottom, and partly along the sides. The remaining space in the sides are filled with filigree work and jewels. The centre of the cover Byzantine work of the 12th century, the border of a later date. The manuscript of the 15th century.

CASE 2.

In the centre of the cover, which is intended to be used as a pax at Mass, is an ivory panel of the Crucifixion, with figures of the Virgin Mary and St. John the Evangelist. The border is of gilt copper engraved with a floriated pattern and studded with silver bosses and jewels; at the corners are Limoges enamel plaques with the four Evangelists. The ivory carving, Byzantine-German, 10th or 11th century; the border, early 13th century; the MS., 9th or 10th century, probably written at the Benedictine Monastery of St. Gall, Switzerland. Celtic influence is shown in the illuminated initial letters.

251. MANUSCRIPT LATIN PSALTER.

The binding was probably made for a Textus or a Book of the Gospels. In the centre of one side is a crucifix in gilt and enamelled copper, much worn down with kisses. On the other is a seated figure in gilt copper of Christ holding a book, and with His right hand raised in blessing. French (Limoges), early 12th century. The background is of silver stamped from dies of the 13th century. The whole is surrounded by an ivory border carved with busts of Saints in octagonal panels.

The cover is a metal plate of unusual thickness and weight. It is probably a casting, of which the front surface has been overgilt and chased. The central figure is that of Christ seated on an arch or possibly a rainbow, a serpentine line below may represent the clouds, and between the feet is the globe or earth. To the left and right are embossed the letters A and M, probably to represent Alpha and Omega. In each corner is a rock crystal cut en cabochon, and surrounding the principal figure are the symbols of the four Evangelists. At the foot is the Agnus Dei. North Italian, 13th century. The manuscript of the 15th century.

Manuscript of the 15th century.

255. MANUSCRIPT BOOK OF THE GOSPELS.

The central recess of the board is covered by a thick plate of copper champlévé enamel, on which is nailed a large figure of Christ in benediction, with the book clasped to His breast, seated on a low chair, in very high relief. The figure is of hammered brass or copper, chased and engraved over the surface, and gilt. At the corners of the enamel are the symbols of the four Evangelists. The bevel is covered by a plain strip of gilt metal. The border covered with strips of gilt metal repoussé. French (Limoges), early 12th century. The manuscript of the 10th century.

256. COVERS OF A BOOK OF HOURS.

Ivory carved in very high relief with a figure of St. James, seated, one hand gathering up his dalmatic and the other clasping an axe and palm leaf against his breast ; background of scroll and leaf design, with inscription S. 259. COVERS OF A BOOK OF THE GOSPELS.

Silver repoussé ; the front board a richly jewelled cross, with Christ holding in His left hand an orb, within a circle ; four angels with trumpets at the angles of the cross ; two angels with reaping hook one at each side of the base, that to the right with ears of corn in the hand and a lamb behind ; while the angel to the left holds a bunch of grapes and has a goat behind.
